ROME, Sept. 9.—"Italy does not intend to launch hostilities against Ethiopia until after the Geneva proceedings," an official Italian government spokesman asserted today.

Hope of averting war was blasted, however, when the spokesman added:

"It is now too late for a last-minute settlement." Commenting on dispatches reporting Italian troop advances toward Ethiopia's borders, the spokesman said these referred only to usual troop movements.

"Hostilities Inevitable" Hostilities are inevitable, said the spokesman, because Italy's demands for complete disarmament of Ethiopian tribes and the right of de-

He was an honor graduate from Tulane university in New Orleans and studied at hospitals in Vienna, Austria, and in Paris.

He had been married but two years and had a three-months-old baby at the time of his death.

Police officials said he had over 15 bullets in him from the guns of Long's bodyguards.

He was 30 years of age. Two residents of Baton Rouge, Fred Watkins and N. A. Shelton passed the same hall-way where the shooting took place and saw Dr. Weiss standing there. They quoted him as saying: "It won't be long now," he smiled wanly.

He was the son-in-law of Judge B. P. Pavy of Opelousas, La. Judge Pavy was hit by one of the bullets introduced in this session of the legislature. Long's bill against Judge Pavy would have changed the district from which the judge was elected and by "gerrymandering" caused him to be defeated in the next election.

Approximately 2500 people gathered in Cascade park Saturday night to hear leaders of the Democratic party, who addressed the picnic and rally held by the county committee and the Young Democratic club. The addresses for the most part were pleas for a new state constitution, an attack on the Republicans and pleas for the support of the Democratic candidates in November.

United States Senator Joseph P. Guffey, Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller, State Supreme Court Justice H. Edgar Barnes, Congressman Charles R. Eckert and Deputy Attorney General Robert L. Myers were the speakers. Carmi Preston was the picnic chairman and introduced the chairman of the evening, Attorney Clarence A. Patterson.

Boak Issues Strong Denial

Statements Of Mrs. Miller
Bring Denial From State
Grange Master

TELLS WHY GRANGE
OPPOSES REVISION

In a vigorous statement today, State Grange Master J. Audley Boak denied in no uncertain tones the statements of Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller that she "thought the statements published by the state grange against the revision of the constitution were financed by Joe Grundy and Andy Mellon."

"First of all it seems hardly necessary to deny such a ridiculous charge," said Mr. Boak. "No sane Pennsylvanian would think for a moment that the state grange could be influenced by politicians of either party and certainly could not be influenced by the money of outsiders."

"However, inasmuch as Mrs. Miller has achieved a synthetic importance by reason of her brother's election to the United States senate, the statement calls for a denial. It is entirely untrue, baseless and could only be conceived by a mind devoid of the spirit of fair play."

"The Pennsylvania state grange is made up of dirt farmers, men who derive their strength from the soil. The organization is kept up by the money wrung from the soil through long arduous labor. It is non-political and in all questions takes a po-

LOUISIANA STATE CAPITOL

SENATOR HUEY LONG

While authorities probed the assassination plot directed at Huey P. Long, Louisiana's fiery dictator, the condition of the senator remained critical in a Baton Rouge hospital where he was rushed after being shot in the abdomen while walking in the corridor of the state capitol, shown at left. ## Barn Is Destroyed On Rodgers Farm

Flames Level Structure On Sunday Evening; Youth
Hurt In Fall

VOLUNTEERS SAVE
SOME OF CONTENTS

Fire, believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion, totally destroyed the barn on the Sherman Rodgers farm, about two miles west of Plaingrove, on Sunday night. Stacks of hay and straw were consumed but no cattle nor machinery were lost.

Neighbors waged a successful fight to keep the roaring flames from a nearby granary. Alarms were spread throughout the district when the fire was first noticed by the family about 7:30 o'clock, and neighbors and motorists on nearby roads sped to the scene. The volunteers helped the family remove some of the structure's contents.

While the fire raged at its height, Thomas Rodgers, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers, fell from a high point of the burning barn to the ground and broke an arm. Friends rushed him to a doctor in Grove City. He had been striving to rescue some contents.

It is believed the barn was partially covered by insurance. The destroyed barn was erected 15 years ago to replace another large barn which fell prey to flames when struck by lightning.

The glow of the barn fire radiated against the sky so brightly last night that motorists driving roads near here could see it.

Bar Pictures In Capitol At Baton Rouge, La.

(International News Service)
BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 9.—Gen. Louis Guerre, in charge of the state police, issued an order today that there were to be no pictures of any type taken in the capitol building.

The order went out to use force on any one carrying a camera and to give the "limit". One motion picture cameraman was warned to take his equipment and get out. City and state police in plain-clothes swarmed around the halls, some with sawed-off shot-guns and others with pistols. All were grim-faced and gave the impression that they were sitting on a powder keg and meant to keep the lid on.

Many sight-seers were walking down the corridor where Huey Long was shot and his assailant killed last night. All marks of the fracas had been cleaned up and police kept the spectators moving.

DJIBOUTI, Sept. 9.—America's first officer commissioned in the Ethiopian army debarked here today with 14 correspondents and photographers bound for Addis Ababa as news reached this torrid port that Premier Mussolini is expected to march Sept. 15 on Addis to revenge the Italian defeat 39 years ago.

Heat, fever and lack of water will be Italy's worst enemies, as the Ethiopians according to information here, intend to interpose only skirmish lines until the Italians are beyond Adowa, where in gorges as deep as the Alps, they will harass the invaders from the heights.

Climate Vicious.
The climate is incredibly vicious for a military campaign. A pitiless sun fried exhausted travelers here with a heat so debilitating in a land so barren that the unanimous wonder was what anyone would want with any territory in this part of the world.

GENEVA, Sept. 9.—Soft-peddling of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute in the League of Nations assembly while the league council is debating it was indicated today when Dr. Edouard Benes, Czechoslovakian foreign minister, was elected president at the assembly's opening session.

Benes was elected, 49 to 4, following the withdrawal of Eamonn De Valera, outspoken Irish Free State president. Benes, a stickler for formal league procedure, was expected to suppress any fiery speeches which might impede the council's peace efforts.

In his opening address, Benes appealed for calm coolness in pursuing the work of peace. Simultaneously, league officials

Man Is Killed By Freight Train

Is Run Over By String Of Empty Cars In B. & O.
Yards Sunday Afternoon

HAD LIVED AT COUNTY HOME

Robert Ambrose, aged 55, also known as Robert Long, was instantly killed in the west end yards of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad Sunday afternoon at 1:20 when struck by a string of empty cars which were being shifted in the yards. His body was practically decapitated. Coroner Orville Potter, who investigated, stated that the nature of the occurrence strongly indicated suicide.

Ambrose had been seen about the B. & O. yards for several hours. His body was discovered by Lou Davis, member of the crew which was shifting in the yards. The engine and string of cars had passed the scene about ten minutes before Ambrose's body was found.

Identify Remains.

Davis notified Yardmaster Ray Muder and Conductor A. F. Martin, and Arthur Lowers, B. & O. policeman, was summoned. The body was removed to the rooms of the Mahoning Undertaking company, and city police were notified. Chief of Detectives Willis McMullen and Detective John Moore went to the undertaking rooms and found that the man resembled Ambrose, who had slept in the police station the night before. James McDevitt, who also was the body, was of the same opinion.

Perry Snyder, superintendent of the county home, was summoned and positively identified the body

FAULTY GUN SAVED LONG

(International News Service)
BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 9.—Officers today credited the revolver Dr. Carl A. Weiss, Jr., used in his attempt to assassinate senator Huey P. Long as one of the main causes why the Louisiana senator was not instantly killed.

The revolver, a Spanish type of 32 calibre, "jammed" as one shot poured its steel jacketed bullet into the abdomen of the senator. Another shot missed.

It was then, as Weiss sought to fire the third time, that the Spanish revolver "jammed." Had that third shot landed and struck the senator, physicians said he might have been killed instantly.

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 9.—Dr. Arthur Vidrine, head of the Charity hospital in New Orleans and in charge of the staff of physicians attending Sen. Huey P. Long, reported to the governor's office at 11:50 a. m., C. S. T., that the Louisiana senator's condition is "improved".

In the short bulletin, Dr. Vidrine stated that while Senator Long's condition remains "serious", it is improving "hourly".

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 9.—While an entire community stood breathlessly by, United States Senator Huey P. Long fought the greatest and grimmest fight of his career today.

Lying in the Lady of the Lake Sanitarium with a bullet-punctured colon, the senator battled to fight off the possibility of peritonitis which, in his weakened condition might prove fatal.

Resting after a midnight emergency operation, and given added strength by two blood transfusions, the Louisiana solon was given a fair chance to recover.

Outside the senator's private room a corps of bodyguards, state police and high state officials stood by, guarding every entrance to the sanitarium.

Fervent excitement prevailed everywhere. In the capitol building, in the hospital, upon the streets. State police were everywhere.

All night the state house was

Schools Re-open For Fall Term

New Castle's Great Host Of School Children Back
In Classes

Fresh from vacations the students and teachers of the New Castle school system, returned to the class room today for the beginning of the school year. As is usual the entire enrollment of students did not report today but will be in later.

No check on the enrollment of the schools was possible at noon today, the principals of the schools not having turned in the totals.

With perhaps one or two exceptions all of the teachers were back and by Tuesday the regular routine of the school will be under way.

Meetings between teachers and principals were held Saturday as was a meeting between the principals and Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools.

Arthur Mometer

The long vacation's ended, the toys are put away, and boys and girls throughout the town are back in school today. No more the friendly swimming hole, no more the hours of ease, no more the rambling at will, or doing as they please. For school is on and now they go in answer to the bell, to learn to read and draw and write and learn to sing and spell. And well the rain is falling in sorrow I would say, at seeing youngsters back in school, its sixty eight today.

Fewer Deaths On State Roads

Only Five Fatalities Are Reported In State Over Week-End

MANY INJURED IN AUTO CRASHES

(International News Service)

Slumping sharply from summer season highs, deaths on Pennsylvania's highways and streets over the week-end totaled only five, an International News Service survey showed today.

William Calka, 16, was killed near Johnstown when he was struck by the running board of a car which struck a tree.

Abraham Owens, 39, Castle Shannon, died instantly in a head-on collision in Pittsburgh.

For the first time in many weeks, central Pennsylvania apparently avoided deaths on the highways over the week-end, although numerous crashes sent more than a score of persons to hospitals.

Miss Gina Bruno, 24, of Philadelphia was killed and several persons were injured in automobile accidents on traffic-jammed highways in the Philadelphia metropolitan district.

Two persons were killed in Sunday collisions in Berks county. They were Stewart Moyer, 22, of Mt. Penn, and Mrs. Elizabeth Kelly, 46, of Pittston.

She reiterated her defense of the "spoils system" when she said: "People have complained that I said I would fire every Republican in office and replace him with a Democrat. I repeat it here. Even if the job were that of a highly skilled technician and the place was

When the automobiles of J. M. Cottrell, R. D. 8, and James Thompson, R. D. 8, collided at Highland and Garfield avenues at 7:40 p. m. September 7, the car operated by Thompson struck a tree, according to a report made to city police.

Hawariate said he had received confirmation of the reports.

Troops Moving Addis Ababa, Sept. 9.—A "serious movement" of Italian troops toward the Ethiopian frontier was reported today in telegram to the Ethiopian government from the governors of northern provinces.

Officials believed the Italians were preparing some military enterprise, perhaps an attack, they said. Movement of Italian troops from Eritrea upon the northern provinces might lead them in the direction of Adowa, scene of the defeat of the Italian forces by the forces of former King Menelik 39 years ago.

A government communique announced movements of Italian troops in Eritrea and suggested these movements indicated an offensive against Ethiopia in the near future.

The communique also said the telegrams from the provinces stated the Italians were massing at several points along the Eritrean frontier.

The general impression here was that should Italy launch an attack she would strike the first blow at Adowa, with armored cars and tanks playing an important part in the offensive.

The role the Italian air force might play is not clear, since the Ethiopians consider their activities may be hampered by lack of suitable landing grounds.

Another report is current here that the Italians intend to use aircraft to spread poison gas.

It is thought by officials here that any offensive from Italian Somaliland would follow one from Eritrea upon Adowa.

Auto Strikes Tree In Highland Avenue

Several Automobile Accidents Over Week-End Reported To Police

When the automobiles of J. M. Cottrell, R. D. 8, and James Thompson, R. D. 8, collided at Highland and Garfield avenues at 7:40 p. m. September 7, the car operated by Thompson struck a tree, according to a report made to city police.

"After Mr. Duce's speech yesterday it is clear Italy is not accepting any concessions similar to those refused during the Paris talks."

Abyssinia Protests (Copyright, 1935, by International News Service) Geneva, Sept. 9.—Abyssinia will protest to the League of Nations regarding reported Italian troop movements toward her northern borders, Bedjurood Teclé Hawariate, Abyssinian representative at Geneva, told International News Service today.

Hawariate said he had received confirmation of the reports.

Troops Moving Addis Ababa, Sept. 9.—A "serious movement" of Italian troops toward the Ethiopian frontier was reported today in telegram to the Ethiopian government from the governors of northern provinces.

Officials believed the Italians were preparing some military enterprise, perhaps an attack, they said. Movement of Italian troops from Eritrea upon the northern provinces might lead them in the direction of Adowa, scene of the defeat of the Italian forces by the forces of former King Menelik 39 years ago.

A government communique announced movements of Italian troops in Eritrea and suggested these movements indicated an offensive against Ethiopia in the near future.

The communique also said the telegrams from the provinces stated the Italians were massing at several points along the Eritrean frontier.

The general impression here was that should Italy launch an attack she would strike the first blow at Adowa, with armored cars and tanks playing an important part in the offensive.

The role the Italian air force might play is not clear, since the Ethiopians consider their activities may be hampered by lack of suitable landing grounds.

Another report is current here that the Italians intend to use aircraft to spread poison gas.

It is thought by officials here that any offensive from Italian Somaliland would follow one from Eritrea upon Adowa.

THE SCHOOL BELL CALLS

THE schoolboy, on the first day of school, was traditionally supposed to answer the command of the bell with tardy and reluctant feet. He was considered to groan as he thought of nine months' servitude under the lesson yoke, in unhappy subjection to teacher, whom he regarded as an unrelenting tyrant. He gave up the vagrant ways of vacation with a heavy heart.

The cheerful faces of the children of New Castle on their way to school on its opening day, gave no hint of such sentiments. On the contrary they have had enough of idle loafing, and they are ready to accept the tasks of school for what they get out of it.

The reason is that education has been turned upside down during recent years. It approaches children from a new point of view. It makes them want to learn, by picturing the dreary future in prospect for the dance. It cuts out the tedious memory lessons of the past, it shows the close relation of school learning to daily needs, and it makes the boy who fails to get his lessons feel like a tail ender in the race of life.

School work becomes associated with interesting things which children do not want to miss. Thousands of schools have athletic teams, bands and orchestras, parties, dances, playgrounds. Not all schools can provide such facilities, but most of them somehow sugar coat the once bitter pill of education.

The teacher has ceased being a grinding taskmaster, and has become the friend whom a normal child will want to please. If some of these youngsters still won't try to learn, even after all these inducements are offered, who or what is to blame? It may be some physical defect which could be cured. It may be some fault of a home, that is ignorant or neglectful.

If children fall behind, their parents would better ask if the lack of home discipline is not the real cause.

SHY AT MORE BOND ISSUES

Numerous municipalities and counties in Ohio defeated public works and poor relief bond issues in recent voting.

Among the losing projects were such items as a city hall, deficiency bonds, and school buildings.

Obviously some of the defeated projects were worthy. Perhaps some of the buildings are really needed, as well as the work-relief their construction was to provide.

Yet Mr. and Mrs. Voter are beginning to make a direct mental connection between voting for things and paying for them.

Even though they have to reverse some of their decisions later on, their present caution may require the public officials who propose bond issues to make more thorough and economical calculations.

THE TANG OF SEPTEMBER

The poets may sing more songs about beautiful spring, but for practical warfare, you can't beat jolly old September. Then it is that old Mr. Sun stops trying to reduce us to greasespots, and he gives us that mild temperature climate that has stimulated American energy to the limits of human activity.

Millions of people feel better in September than in any other month. The tang of north winds sweeps away the languid humidities of August, and puts ginger into lazy bones. If you can't do a day's work in September, don't expect any boss to hire you.

Crackling fires on cool nights, mellowing fruits in the orchards, barns bursting with plenty, these are typical signs of September. It is a month of invigoration and beauty, and anyone who has a job should put in all the extra licks he can think of.

GALLANTRY AT SEA

It frequently happens that after major tragedies at sea the finger of blame is pointed at the skipper, who is charged with carelessness, criminal neglect or incompetency. Such charges are difficult to prove and, although many of them are undoubtedly warranted, officers of a ship may be unjustly condemned because they are unable to cope with forces definitely beyond their control.

It is gratifying to learn that passengers of the grounded Morgan liner Dixie had nothing but praise for the courageous and efficient efforts of Captain Elmer W. Sundstrom and his crew. Reports indicate that the crew was calm in the face of grave danger and heroic in its efforts to maintain the morale of the passengers and effect their rescue as quickly and safely as possible.

There is no undercurrent of complaint or bad feeling against the ship's officers, such as has accompanied other major tragedies at sea. The spontaneous tributes to their courage and ability indicate that their actions were above question. It is to be hoped that the same would have been said even if some lives unavoidably had been lost in the rescue of the marooned passengers.

WHY THE WPA LAG?

When the WPA was created Harry F. Hopkins was given charge in addition to his FERA directorship. That was after the administration discovered the public works program would have to be modified to include a sort of glorified civil works undertaking, this in order to reduce the average man cost and insure jobs for all the 3,500,000 employables out of the $4,000,000,000 fund.

It was given out at the time that the WPA would handle projects outside the heavy construction class—the kind that could be quickly started and in which labor would constitute the highest cost element. Thus the WPA was to serve as both a stop-gap while the PWA projects were getting under way and a means of helping to spread out the $4,000,000,000 among a larger number.

That was four months ago. There was great optimism in the administration. The expectation was held out that soon after July 1, when the money became available, the dirt would fly everywhere there was much unemployment. Later came the announcement that by November the federal government, having provided jobs for all the employables, would stop direct relief funds, leaving it to the states to look after those unable to work.

Now July has passed and so has August, and where are we? Both the president and Mr. Hopkins have been making promises without understanding the practicalities involved. That is one reason. Another is that they have permitted the bundle to become inextricably wound up in endless red tape and the administrative staff apparently has been for the most part reserved for deserving Democrats.

All Of Us

IS EVERYTHING TOPSY-TURVY?

Everything is topsy-turvy. Didn't you know that?

Yes you did, but you haven't put it into words and we often know truths without knowing that we know them.

We are afraid because we run away. We think we run away because we are afraid, but that isn't true... We face a roaring lion and our feet take us swiftly away from that place... Then fear floods our being and we shiver. But until we fled we were not afraid.

We face a great peril and we plant our feet solidly and strike out boldly. Then, afterwards, we are brave. Something within us comes to our rescue, strengthens our arm, makes more stubborn our courage... A gladness within us pours a strengthening elixir into our veins, and we are twice the battling warriors we dreamed of being.

We love money, before we get it. We want something else first; we want conflict, power, a testing of our strength. Money, comes along and takes possession of us. Then we fall in love with its bright golden face and we are misers... But we were misers before we ever had the money... We are not arrogant because we have power. We were arrogant first and sought the food on which our arrogance might be fed.

Men are not wise because they have a great fund of knowledge. Many a man is wise who knows little that is fed to boys and girls in school. Many a child is wise before he knows his letters.

Women are not tender because their pity is aroused. They act gently toward the poor, the suffering the betrayed and then their pity blooms like a flower. The tiger loves blood before he has seized his pitiful prey, and the humble are gentle before they have sweetened their lives with humility.

Men act, then they give their reasons; they are themselves first, before they try to explain and justify themselves.

Everything SEEMS topsy-turvy, but it is not really so. If the world seems awry and contradictory, it is because we, too often, are expecting to be admired for our marvelous ability to stand on our heads.

Life is NOT wild and frenetic; it is serene and steady enough for those who are not turning flip-flops.

MAKE ALLOWANCE FOR YOUR DISADVANTAGES

If you have not acquired caution with your years and have a corresponding lack of ability to take care of yourself, you should expect that these effects will cause you to encounter some serious difficulties. If your eyesight is poor, if it is hard for you to judge distances, you are foolish to take chances in crossing crowded thoroughfares.

Instantaneous action is often needed to avoid accidents. If your mind does not work as quickly as it should, if your hands do not respond to the brain's message as quickly as they should, you ought not to be driving an automobile.

If your muscles do not respond as soon as they should, you should not drive fast.

You wonder at the chances young fellows take in driving cars. But they possess an advantage over you in that they can get instantaneous coordination of brain and brawn.

It is foolish to kid yourself into believing that you can take the risks they take. Elderly persons are not as physically expert with a car as younger ones.

LESSON FOR GIGGLERS

A minister in a small town in Missouri found the quiet of his Sunday morning services disturbed the other day by the repeated giggles of half a dozen young people who found each other's whispered remarks more interesting than the sermon. So, after church was over, he had the whole crew arrested on charges of disturbing religious worship, and the court imposed fines of $1 and costs.

Few ministers have ever gone to the length this gentleman went; but there must be dozens of ministers, school teachers and similarly-placed people who will have a whole-hearted feeling for him.

The youngster whose parents have never bothered to tell him (or her) what an irritating thing the everlasting giggle is, pops up everywhere, and is invariably an unmitigated public nuisance. If a few more people had nerve enough to take action as this Missouri clergyman took it, some of our public services, religious and otherwise, would run much more smoothly.

FLAT HEADED HUSBANDS BEST

Many a wife has called her husband a flat-head without knowing the true significance of that term. It may seem like strange advice to give to girls hunting husbands to tell them to go around feeling like heads of prospects. But if one can depend on what the phenologists say, what else is a girl to do? Dr. Ida Spellman, librarian of the British Phenological society, started the discussion by advising "Girls, shun all Romeos with flat heads! When you contemplate matrimony never accept a suitor with a flat skull." To which Dr. Louis J. Karnosh, one of this nation's outstanding psychopathologists and resident director of the neuropsychiatric division of the Cleveland City Hospital, countered that if you want to be happy, girls, pick a flat head for a mate. Said he: "Flat heads make the best lovers. They are naturally comfortable in their outlook on life, with kindly instincts, and never become unduly depressed, etc." In other words, Dr. Karnosh puts his scientific o. k. on flat heads in preference to dome-crowned males.

Answer: It is the duty of the hostess to enlighten her guests on this point. In some houses, breakfast is at a set hour while in others it may be continuous. Should your hostess neglect to tell you what time this meal is to be served, you should then ask either her or the maid.

In some homes, especially those with a number of servants, it is customary to send a breakfast tray upstairs to each guest's room. And if your hostess makes such a suggestion, you may with propriety accept.

On the contrary, I would be an imposition for you to suggest or expect such service in a house with one or no servants.

While no one will probably expect you to rise early, it would not be advisable for you to sleep so late that the preparation of your breakfast would interfere with the luncheon of the remainder of the household.

The World At A Glance

Comptroller McCarl Envied.
Can Blue Pencil New Deal.
Weakness Lies In Figures.

This is the ninth of a series on Republican presidential possibilities.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Writer Of Central Press "World At A Glance" Column

JOHN RAYMOND MCCART, comptroller general of the United States, needs to make no speeches. His daily actions count.

He is the only Republican who can blue pencil the New Deal officially. He sees that the expenditures are legal. And he does that disconcertingly. Every government expenditure, every expense account must pass through McCarl's office. He knows everything that goes on. And, officially, he knows when to speak up, and when not to. It took an act of congress to get around him on certain TVA expenditures. He virtually had tied up the works.

McCarl is much like the bureaucrat of the British navy in Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera, "H. M. S. Pinafore," who remarked:

"It is one of the happiest characteristics of this glorious country that official utterances are invariably regarded as unanswerable."

And later we hear this pleasant bureaucrat singing:

"I will hear of no defense. Attempt none if you're sensible."

The official statements of McCarl are unanswerable. Figures do not lie—when standing alone.

WEAKNESS

Figures, coupled with social progress, may mean something entirely different from figures in a pure bookkeeping account.

McCarl's weakness lies in his sole dependence on figures.

Speak of figures to a farmer, and he is likely to be angry because the government does not guarantee higher prices for cotton and wheat.

Speak figures to war veterans, and they'll talk bonus.

Speak figures even to a businessman, and he will ask first whether the particular expenditure which interests him is to remain.

Emotional denunciation goes further. Senator William E. Borah or Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg know that better.

SOUND

McCarl, however, is getting a reputation for "soundness." The Republicans like that word this campaign. If McCarl is "sound" he may have a strong "pull" with large numbers of people, for the United States remains an essentially constructive nation.

McCarl, too, has been uniquely sheltered from political vicissitudes. He has been comptroller general since 1921—having been appointed by President Harding for valiant service to the national Republican congressional committee. He is the first comptroller general to serve under a new law—which causes the tenure to be 15 years, with no re-appointment. McCarl's term ends next year.

He began political life with a Progressive—Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, whose secretary he was. (They're from the same town—McCook, Neb.) But McCarl was too much of a conservative for Norris.

AN OFFICE HOLDER
John Raymond McCarl is not a businessman, in the strict sense of the term. He is a businessman's counsel. His chief occupation has been as an officeholding lawyer.

He was born near Des Moines, Ia., on Nov. 27, 1879, thus he would enter the presidential year at 57.

He received his LL. B. at the University of Nebraska in 1903, and was a member of a law firm at McCook, Neb., for 11 years. Then—in 1914—he became the secretary to Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, and remained with "Uncle George" for four years, through some of his most strenuous progressive fights.

In 1918 McCarl became secretary of the national Republican congressional committee. And in appreciation for his work in the Republican victory of 1920, President Harding named McCarl comptroller general of the United States July 1, 1921.

Today's yesterdays. He deposed and killed the last Anglo-Saxon king of England, was killed himself by a plunging horse as he was engaged in battle with the king of France.

Sept. 9, 1513—Another notable ruler in the British isles died—James IV of Scotland, grandfather of ill-fated Mary Queen of Scots. He made golf-playing illegal in Scotland! He believed it interfered with the archery skill of men of military age.

Sept. 9, 1776—The Continental Congress resolved "that in all continental commissions where heretofore the words 'United Colonies' have been used, the style be altered to the future to the United States." Thus was the name given this nation officially.

Sept. 9, 1850—California was admitted to the Union as the 31st state.

Investigators To Give Reports

Ready To Make Headlines On Munitions, Lobbying, Patents, Elections

WILL SOON BE IN PUBLIC EYE

Central Press Washington Bureau, 1900 S street

By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Congressional investigating committees will be getting into action long before congress itself reconvenes in January.

Four of them especially will attract attention:

1. Senator Gerald P. Nye's munitions quiz.
2. Senator Hugo L. Black's anti-lobbying probe.
3. Representative William I. Sirovich's, into patent monopolies.
4. Representative William J. Granfield's election inquiry.

That is to say, Nye, Black, Sirovich and Granfield are chairmen of the respective committees—the first and second named by the senate, the third and fourth by the house of representatives.

TO BE IN PUBLIC EYE

The Nye and Black committees already are well advertised, but they will be getting still more advertising shortly.

Nye and some of his associates are dissatisfied with present stop-gap legislation to keep Uncle Sam out of overseas warfare. They want a more stringent neutrality law—more so, in certain respects, than suits President Roosevelt. Besides, if American oil interests did lend themselves to a plot to involve the U. S., willy-nilly, in the Italo-Ethiopian quarrel, the Nye investigators intend to uncover every detail of the conspiracy. This will be new material—sensational maybe.

The Black group thus far has confined itself mainly to an investigation into the doings of utility lobbyists. Now it is about to begin an investigation of the lobbying activities, if any, of the representatives of other lines of big business. Such as the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers, the Liberty League, of which Jouett Shouse is head, et cetera. Farmers' and labor organizations rather noticeably are unmentioned as likely to be "put on the pan"; politically they are dangerous folk to antagonize. The haven of "business" financial potency, but they have numbers—a vital consideration, with election day nearing.

NYE AND BLACK COMPARED

Though dissimilar in their methods, Senators Black and Nye both are celebrated investigators.

Black is a prosecutor. He "grills" a witness.

Nye is suave and ingratiating. Nevertheless, as much as Black, and perhaps more so, he leads his victim into damaging admissions.

Black is a lawyer, Nye a newspaperman. They have their respective systems.

Of the two, I think that Nye's is the better. He so puts questions that the witness can't afford to refuse to answer. A witness who faces Black is in a position to stand on his "constitutional rights" and defy the querist. Nevertheless Black is a capable legal cross-examiner.

AN "UNKNOWN" VETERAN

Nationally speaking, Representatives Sirovich and Granfield are comparative unknowns.

Sirovich is not a new congressman. He is in his fourteenth year on Capitol Hill, but he is from Manhattan, which, in a country-wide sense, obscures him. He is a New York doctor. Who thinks of him as a politician?

For all that, he is chairman of the representatives' patents committee. In a general way his contention that patent rights have been abused might not be so significant, but he asserts specifically that these abuses have resulted in many aviation tragedies—as in the Post-Rogers case and that of the late Senator Cutting.

This gives his charges pungency.

TO "CATCH" KINGFISH?

Representative Granfield slid into congress principally on the ground that he was a wet, in 1930—and what attracted attention was that it was in Calvin Coolidge's home district, which had not previously gone Democratic since the war of secession.

Since then he has not been conspicuous—but he was an early supporter of Joseph W. Byrns for speaker of the house of representatives, which may account for his appointment by Byrns to the chairmanship of this key committee.

The committee's essential task is to put the skids, if possible, under Senator Huey P. Long in Louisiana and adjoining states, where he is supposed to be influential. The committee has no actual veto power over the election of a senator (the Kingfish is a candidate next year) or a representative. But it can create such a scandal as to prevent an elected senator or representative from being seated.

Representative Granfield's job will prove whether or not he is equal to it.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 9.—Mrs. Alice Plappert Tudas, 20, of Carnegie, sought an annulment of her marriage to John H. Tudas, who she charged, kidnapped her and forced her into a Wellsburg, W. Va., marriage under duress.

In a petition before the Brooks county, W. Va., circuit court, Mrs. Tudas charged that her husband forced her into his car and drove her to Wellsburg where he forced her to marry him. Her husband, she said, obtained cooperation from one of Wellsburg's "cruising cupid" taxi drivers. She claimed she did not hear one word of the marriage ceremony.

Tudas, also of Carnegie, denied the charges, and said she had several opportunities to leave him on the trip. "I have several hundred dollars and I'll spend every cent of it to block the annulment. I love her."

BUTLER POOR FARM AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 9.—The poor farm, which for the past two years has been a "political football" in this county, had charges of mismanagement again leveled at it by the grand jury late yesterday.

The jury recommended the dismissal of Miss Mame Bickel, nurse, on the ground that she called inmates questionable names and reminded them that they were paupers.

The court, while reading the report, apparently took into consideration the fact that Miss Bickel had not been heard, saying, "she has not been heard and this may be libel against her."

Carbondale Man Dies At Rockview

Dominick Iacobino Pays Penalty In Chair For Double Murder

(International News Service)
ROCKVIEW PENITENTIARY, BELLEVILLE, Pa., Sept. 9.—Smiling broadly, with a farewell wave to acquaintances who sat as witnesses, Dominick Iacobino, Carbondale, calmly paid with his life early today for the slaying of two men.

Iacobino, father of eight children, entered the execution chamber at 12:30 a. m. Straps were hastily adjusted and Robert Elliott, executioner, threw the switch at 12:31. The slayer was pronounced dead at 12:34 by Dr. W. J. Weikel, prison physician.

Iacobino entered the chamber accompanied by Rev. Joseph Gilbridge, Carbondale, and Rev. Francis McCreech, prison priest. He showed no nervousness and walked to the lethal chair with a smile.

Convicted of killing two men in a card game, Iacobino was resigned to his fate. Earlier he had fought for a commutation and a temporary delay was granted Saturday. The prison board, however, refused the commutation Saturday night after further studying the case.

Iacobino was a model prisoner on the trip from Lackawanna county. He arrived at the prison Sunday morning.

Subpoenas in divorce have been served through the sheriff's office in the case of Mary Ann Hoke against John William Hoke and Hilda Gross Hawk against George E. Hawk.

Petition for a pluries subpoena and order of publication has been presented in the divorce case of Ulysses Apostolou against Zenia R. Apostolou. Respondent could not be served personally with a subpoena. An order for publication was made.

Joseph B. Leyde has filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Attorney William McElwee, Jr., executor in the estate of the late Paris McConnell, to collect a bill of $365, which it is claimed is owed by the McConnell estate.

Frances McClintock Magee has filed an application at the prothonotary's office for a divorce from her husband, Harry G. Magee. They were married in October, 1911. The application is filed on the grounds of desertion.

An appeal from the decision of Alderman Ewing has been filed in the case of Harold M. Leach against John J. Dockman in which judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for $100. The suit was based on a claim of Leach for a commission on a real estate exchange.

Some voters espouse the cause of a political party through principle and others through expediency. When any man who has held several lucrative offices under one party, and has always shouted his party loyalty from the rooftops, suddenly changes his party affiliation, one is forced to the conclusion that his principles are a good bit like his beauty.

Grand jurors who convened this morning only hear one side of a case, that of the commonwealth, and only a part of the witnesses for the commonwealth are called. The object of presenting a case to the grand jury is to determine whether or not it should go to trial before a jury. If the grounds are considered sufficient a "true bill" is found, if insufficient, the jury endorses "not a true bill" and that is the end of the case.

penses, of course, with the candidate the judge of what is legitimate. But it's like pulling teeth to scatter coin upon the troubled political sea not knowing whether it will float back with a nomination or be swallowed up by suckers. Some of the candidates say they never knew that it cost so much to run for office, but so far they have managed to get along without paying their bills. One of the last expenditures is for sample ballots with a big "X" marked opposite the name of the candidate. This is to educate the voter on where to place his mark without any wear or tear on his motor.

Mrs. Rosa Herman, also known as Rosa Speaker, has filed an answer to a suit brought by Mike Miskovitch, in which he claimed the defendant owed him $3000 borrowed money. Mrs. Herman denies that she borrowed $400 from plaintiff at one time and $2600 at another, and says that she does not owe Miskovitch anything. She claims that in February, 1920, she and her husband, Steve Herman, bought a place at 117 Terrace avenue for which they paid cash. In August, 1920, they bought another place at 113 Terrace avenue for $2500, paying $1100 cash and borrowing $1400 from plaintiff. The property was sold and the plaintiff was paid back his money. Mr. Herman died in October, 1921. Mrs. Herman says that Miskovitch who had roomed at her house, wanted to marry her, but she refused him and later married John Speaker. While she and Speaker were living at Lorain, O., Mrs. Speaker says Miskovitch came to her home and threatened her because she had thrown him down and married Speaker. Mrs. Speaker says that at the bottom of the present suit and that she does not owe Miskovitch anything.

SENATOR LONG HAS FAIR CHANCE FOR RECOVERY

alive with officials awaiting the bulletins on Senator Long's condition.

Administer Oxygen
Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 9.—In a vigorous effort to prevent any weakening at all, oxygen was administered to Senator Huey P. Long last night and was being continued today. It was revealed here this forenoon.

Physicians said, however, administration of oxygen in connection with blood transfusions was not indicative of any dangerously weak condition, but rather they were being used to forestall any such weakening.

The last transfusion was made shortly after 9:15 a. m., C. S. T., it was reported.

Reported Better
Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 9.—Tense with suspicion and anxiety, the state capital today waited for hourly news of Senator Huey P. Long's condition.

The Louisiana political dictator, who was shot and wounded last night by Dr. Carl Weiss, Jr., was reported better by Col. Seymour Weiss, Long's close personal friend. "There has been a steady improvement," said Col. Weiss, as he left the Lady of the Lake hospital at 8:15 a. m., C. S. T. "The senator is getting along as well as we could expect and we are encouraged by his improvement."

Later Col. Weiss and Gov. O. K. Allen appeared at breakfast in the capitol coffee shop and Gov. Allen seemed encouraged by the reports of the senator's condition.

Governor Collapses
Last night the governor, when advised of the shooting and the extent of Senator Long's injuries, collapsed. Today he seemed in much better spirits.

Meanwhile, in an atmosphere tense with emotion, crowds gathered about the capitol and the hospital.

Mindful of the attempted assassination, state officials tightened further their rigid surveillance. Every man, woman and child entering the statehouse was searched for weapons, the search being most thorough.

Thousands of telegrams poured into this capital city with many offering to give their blood for transfusion purposes. Gilman McConnell, Long's brother-in-law, said:

Extra hospital help and medical assistance, as well as additional telephone operators have been added to the hospital where the wounded Louisiana senator is fighting for his life.

Recovers Consciousness
Flint, Mich., Sept. 9.—Senator Huey Long recovered consciousness and showed his first signs of rallying from the bullet wound at 8:30 a. m. today, George Manes, the Louisiana senator's close friend here, informed International News Service. Manes received the information by long distance telephone from Earle J. Christenberry, Long's secretary.

Fighting For Life
Baton Rouge, La., Sept. 9.—With Manuel LeBlanc prevailing throughout Southern Louisiana, amid scenes of the wildest confusion, United States Senator Huey P. Long, tottered between life and death on a cot in Lady of the Lake Sanitarium today.

Surgeons and physicians said the Louisiana senator was fighting the greatest and grimmest fight of his career.

Resting, now that the bullet from would-be assassin's gun had been removed from his intestines, and given added strength through the blood of his close personal and political friend, Lieut. Governor James A. McCreary, Senator Long was given a good chance to recover.

A heavy array of armed bodyguards and state troopers stood on guard outside the senator's room and the hospital, allowing no one, but those especially authorized, to enter.

At the bedside of the wounded senator sat his wife. She had been summoned hastily from New Orleans.

Composed, she was quoted as saying the senator had had a premonition that something was going to happen to him. She quoted him as having said when he left her last night:

"I may not come back, but I'll die fighting."

Shortly before daylight, the following bulletin was issued at the hospital:

"Senator Long was wounded by one bullet which entered the upper right side, emerging from back. The bullet was punctured in two places. Condition thoroughly satisfactory."

"It will be from 72 to 90 hours before further developments can be expected. Blood transfusion had good results."

Shot By Doctor
Within an hour after Senator Long had been shot down on the floor of the House of Representatives and his assailant, Dr. Carl A. Weiss, Jr., almost cut in two by machine gun fire from Long's bodyguards, Baton Rouge and Southern Louisiana resembled wartime territory.

It was reported that some of the various anti-Long groups and organizations in the state might seize the opportunity to rise in open revolt, the senator's supporters in the state government immediately called out several battalions of state troopers.

Martial law was declared shortly after 2 a. m.

The National Guardsmen, aided by State troopers patrolled the capitol and all state buildings.

Throughout the city hundreds of citizens appeared on the streets to discuss the dramatic shooting, but as soon as they gathered they were dispersed.

The suddenness with which the all-powerful Long was shot down and the instantaneous slaying of his assailant left Louisiana shocked and dumfounded.

It was almost impossible to obtain coherent accounts of the shooting and the events immediately following it.

This much, however, seemed established.

Shot In Capitol
Nattily dressed, as always, the Louisiana senator left the House of Representatives still in session as it passed into the final discussion of 32 bills drawn up at his command. As he stepped into the hallway leading to the office of Gov. O. K. Allen, a young man, dressed simply in white linen, walked up to him, placed a revolver against his body and pulled the trigger.

Murphy Roden, the senator's bodyguard, immediately attempted to wrest the revolver from the assassin's hand. He failed to jerk the gun free, but did succeed in jamming the trigger. A second later the roar and rat-a-tat of machine gun fire echoed through the halls of the capitol building as the accompanying state police and bodyguards opened fire upon Weiss.

Literally riddled with bullets, the young doctor fell in a tangled and crimson heap.

In a flash, indescribable pandemonium and confusion reigned in the state halls, where only a moment before all had been quiet and calm. From the house chamber a crowd of men poured out, seeking the reason for the shooting. The wounded senator, blood trickling from his lips, was picked up tenderly and rushed away from the building to Our Lady of the Lake sanitarium.

Confusion Reigns
There confusion also prevailed as the senator was hastily taken to the operating room for treatment. X-ray pictures were taken to determine the seriousness of the wound. Rumor after rumor flashed through the city and state. Senator Long was shot in the stomach, according to one; in the lung, according to another. Meanwhile the physicians, the cream of the medical profession in Baton Rouge, refused to comment until the X-ray pictures had been developed.

At the capitol, Governor O. K. Allen and Allen Ellender, speaker of the house, hastily put through phone calls to New Orleans, summoning other physicians to attend the wounded dictator.

Before the day is over, it was expected, 17 surgeons and physicians, the best in the state, will be in attendance upon the senator.

In the hallway, where the dramatic shooting took place, the body of young Dr. Weiss still lay where it had fallen at an early hour today. Officials said the body would be removed and an inquest held this morning.

Dr. Weiss, who was 30 years old, was identified by means of a wallet in his pocket. He was a son-in-law of Judge B. H. Pavy of Opelousas, La. Judge Pavy, who has long been a bitter enemy of Senator Long, was believed to be the object of a special bill introduced at the present session of the state legislature. The bill, which would have reappointed the part of the state where the judge holds office, was designed, it is said, to remove Judge Pavy from office.

This legislation, reports stated, is believed to have led to the action taken last night by Dr. Weiss. The doctor is survived by his wife and three months old baby.

Hundreds of people visited the flower show sponsored by the Hickory Heights P. T. A. on Friday evening in the Hickory Heights school building. The display was believed by many to be the most gorgeous and of higher quality than any of the previous shows.

Judges for the flowers were Mrs. William Howley and Mrs. Harry Wetlich. The judge for the vegetables was H. R. McCulloch, county farm agent.

President Makes Brief Statement

Declares "The Spirit Of Violence" In Long Attempted Slaying "Is Un-American"

(International News Service)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 9.—In a brief and measured statement President Roosevelt today expressed regret over the attempt on Senator Huey Long's life, declaring "The spirit of violence is un-American."

The brief statement, made public from the temporary executive offices in Poughkeepsie, follows:

"I deeply regret the attempt made upon the life of Senator Long, of Louisiana. The spirit of violence is un-American and has no place in a consideration of public affairs, least of all at a time when calm and dispassionate approach to the difficult problems of the day is so essential."

Word of the attempted assassination of Long first reached here shortly before midnight last night. The president at that time, however, had gone to bed and he did not learn of the shooting until this morning.

The statement of regret was issued early this afternoon following a conference with Marvin H. McIntyre, one of the presidential secretaries.

He will be prosecuted on a charge of breaking and entering, according to police.

EDWARD L. DOHENY DIES IN LOS ANGELES

Oil Magnate Is Taken By Death

Multi-Millionaire Figured In Secretary Fall Case In 1924

FICTION-LIKE CAREER AT END

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9.—Death today had closed the almost fiction-like career of Edward L. Doheny, multi-millionaire oil magnate.

Doheny died at his palatial estate in the hills overlooking Los Angeles late yesterday after a battle of almost three years against the infirmities of age, aggravated by a stroke of paralysis suffered late in 1931 from which he never fully recovered.

Born in Fon Du Lac, Wis., Doheny was 79 years of age.

At the bedside of the oil magnate when the end came was his wife, the former Carrie Estelle Betzold, of Marshalltown, Iowa, and Mrs. Doheny's sister, Mrs. J. Crampton Anderson.

Extreme unction was administered to Doheny by two resident priests in the Doheny home, the Rev. Fathers Ward and Lavelle.

Since 1931 Doheny had lived a life of virtual retirement from the world in which he had been so active since he left his childhood home in Wisconsin at the age of 16.

The final years of Doheny's life were filled with trouble and sorrow. In 1924 the federal government began an investigation of what Doheny termed a "gift" of $100,000 to his old comrade of the prospecting days—Albert Fall, a member of the cabinet of the late President Warren G. Harding.

The oil magnate was cleared of criminal offense but Fall was convicted of accepting a bribe in connection with the leasing to Doheny of the Elk Hills, Cal., naval oil reserve fields.

At the time of his death suits were pending in federal court against Doheny by receivers of Pan American Oil Co., aggregating more than $12,000,000.

Arbitration Perhaps.
What About The Bonus?
They Under Rate Japan.
$300,000 For A Fight.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

GENEVA THINKS Mussolini will consent to arbitration. Arbiters will be appointed to decide whether or not Mussolini may take the slice of Ethiopia that he thinks he needs.

Italy might say to England: "Will you submit to arbitration the question of returning to the Boers their land in South Africa and the gold and diamond mines that you took from them?"

Italy might ask France:

"Will you submit to arbitration on ownership of great territories in Northern Africa and elsewhere taken by France? When you took these territories and England seized hers in Africa, BY FORCE, both were more nearly civilized than Ethiopia, about which you shed so many crocodile tears."

VETERANS THAT MARCHED ON WASHINGTON, to get their bonus, marched out again and down to southern camps where, unfortunately, they were overwhelmed by the tornado, many killed. Orders are issued that their bodies shall not be burned wholesale, as is the custom, unless absolutely necessary to avoid pestilence.

The veterans are to have separate burials at government expense and in Arlington Cemetery, if relatives desire it.

THIS WILL CONSOLATE RELATIVES, slightly, but will not help the dead veterans. It might help their surviving comrades by inclining Congress next time to pay them the comparatively small amount due them.

A country that can afford to spend 10,000 million dollars in one situation might surely tack on the small sum necessary to pay the bonus to the veterans.

It is not desirable to create the impression that the most ungrateful job you can undertake in the United States is DEFENDING YOUR COUNTRY.

IT IS SURPRISING to hear Japan's "Young Men's Association" calling on "Asiatic and African races to do away with the white peril." Americans, acquainted with the high intelligence, efficiency and civilization of the Japanese people, will be surprised that any association of "young Japanese" should compare themselves with barbarous tribes of Ethiopia that worship the hippopotamus, believe that the hyena is a magician, and as Buckle tells you, refuse to touch the skin of a dead hyena until it has been properly blessed and "exorcised."

IT IS A PLEASURE to assure those "young Japanese" members of one of the most progressive races in the world, Americans have a higher opinion of their race than they seem to have of themselves.

It is not the outside color of the face, but inside quality of the brain that counts.

MR. MAX BAER, of the Jewish race, will fight on September 24 Mr. Joe Louis, of the African Negro race, and already $300,000 worth of the tickets have been sold. The price for a good seat is $25.

Mr. Baer who gave a pitiful exhibition, not long ago, when he permitted his "heavyweight championship of the world" to wriggle off of the hook, now promises to "beat" that boy (Joe Louis) out of the ring in two rounds.

Publicly Mr. Joe Louis gives an imitation of Br'er Rabbit and says little.

Privately Mr. Louis says to reporters: "I hear Mr. Baer's mother is terribly fond of him. That certainly makes me feel bad, on account of what I got to do to him."

THIS QUESTION ARISES:

"How far have we two-legged creatures 12,000 years from the late stone age, advanced along the line of civilization? Do we much more than, for instance, you think would be paid for admission to hear Prof. Einstein, sharing the same ancient ancestry as Mr. Max Baer, debate with the most learned man, relatively, finite space, time that had an actual beginning, and possible synthetic construction of the atom?"

DR. WILLIAM L. GRIFFIN, of Michigan, dead at 77, was a country physician. Part of his work was looking after mothers in childbirth; he brought into the world 3,800 babies. How many of them will meet him in Heaven and thank him? How many will go in the other direction and wish they had never been born? How many of the 3,800 will be glad, and how many sorry, that they were born, while still alive? Some are grandfathers already, some babies in their mothers' arms. Dr. Griffin did his duty.

Do you tire easily?

no appetite? nervous? losing weight? pale? then don't gamble with your body

IF your physical let-down is caused by a lowered red-blood-cell and hemo-glo-bin content in the blood—then S.S.S. is waiting to help you... though, if you suspect an organic trouble, you will, of course, want to consult a physician or surgeon.

S.S.S. is not just a so-called tonic. It is a tonic specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions, and also has the mineral elements so very, very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-glo-bin of the blood.

This two-fold purpose is important. Digestion is improved... food is better utilized... and thus you are enabled to better "carry on" without exhaustion—as you should naturally.

You may have the will-power to be "up and doing" but unless your blood is in top notch form you are not fully yourself and you may remark, "I wonder why I tire so easily."

Let S.S.S. help build back your blood tone... if your case is not exceptional, you should soon enjoy again the satisfaction of appetizing food... sound sleep... steady nerves... a good complexion... and renewed strength.

S.S.S. is sold by all drug stores in two sizes. The $2 economy size is twice as large as the $1.25 regular size and is sufficient for two weeks treatment. Begin on the uproad today.

Rev. Smith Beats "Chuck" Mayne In Semi-Final Match

Miller Advances To Semi-Finals By Winning From Timblin

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 9.—Before an interested group of spectators and under a hot, cloudless sky, Rev. John P. Smith rallied here Saturday to take the crucial set in his semi-final match with "Chuck" Mayne and to win the encounter 7-5, 3-6, 6-3.

Smith was on the offensive for the majority of the game serving and returning with hard, rifle-like shots. Mayne on the defense retaliated with well placed returns that more than once found Smith out of place for an all-important point.

Mayne's cautious game gave Smith a run for his money in the first set and easily won in the second. However, here, Smith rallied and played brilliant tennis in driving over point after point to win the crucial set.

Mayne was the first opponent who won a set from Rev. Smith in tournament competition. As a result of semi-final play Smith advances into the finals to meet the winner of the Johnston-Miller game.

Miller won from Timblin Saturday 6-2, 6-2 to challenge Johnston in the semi-finals. The match will be played as soon as possible.

The criminal courts of the county are the Court of Oyer and Terminer, which tries the major felonies, and the Court of Quarter Sessions, which tries most ordinary crimes.

These ancient courts demand much of a judge. On the one hand he represents the people, determined to protect themselves from crime; on the other he represents the defendant, entitled to a square deal and simple American justice. He must be a man of courage, wisdom and charity.

Tells Of Shooting Of Senator Long

Editor's Note: The following account, written by Wes Gallagher, International News Service special correspondent, gives a graphic account of the shooting of Senator Huey P. Long in the halls of the state capitol building here last night. Gallagher was in the hall a moment after the first shot was fired.

By WES GALLAGHER
Copyright, 1935, By International News Service
BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 9.—Everything was working smoothly in the house of representatives and adjournment neared.

Senator Huey Long dressed in a grey suit paused in his pacing of the house and left the floor for Governor O. K. Allen's office down the hall. The senator's bodyguards followed.

At the moment the legislature show for the evening was about over and most of the spectators had started to leave the building. Suddenly a blast of sub-machine guns and revolvers roared down the corridor.

Pushing through the crowd I ran into the corridor and came face to face with a group of bodyguards heavily armed with revolvers and machine guns.

On the floor lay a man in a white linen suit with blood pouring out of his back, literally cut in half by the terrific fire of bullets.

Fighting to keep back the crowds and restore some sort of order out of the wild confusion bodyguards showed me down the hall. Later they made us leave the building. Talking excitedly, persons gathered about me told the story of the shooting which I finally pieced together.

The man, now identified as Dr. Carl A. Weiss, Jr., had walked up to Senator Long in the hall. In a flash he showed the gun into the senator's chest and pulled the trigger. He fired again but Long managed to avoid the fire for an instant. And in that instant Long's bodyguards flew in all directions at Dr. Weiss and in another second that tremendous volley of shots had been poured into the body of the young physician.

Before that terrific barrage of fire the man fell to the floor, his body riddled beyond description. As they pushed us back bodyguards grabbed the wounded senator and rushed with him from the hall. He was taken to Our Lady of the Lake sanitarium, which is located across a small lake in the rear of the capitol building.

State Relief Rolls Show Increase

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 9.—Continuing to rise for the fifth consecutive week, the number of persons on Pennsylvania relief rolls was increased by 7,398 during the final week of August, state relief director Robert L. Johnson reported today.

Johnson said that although additions from the ranks of those dropped from work division rolls have virtually ceased, the current relief load may be expected to hold at its present level "until first day checks are issued to an appreciable number of WPA workers."

Relief applications remained almost unchanged, 14,140 being received during the week ending August 31, as compared with 14,293 the preceding period. As of August 31, there were 434,787 cases, comprising 1,639,858 persons, on state relief rolls, Johnson said.

Direct relief expenditures diminished by $134,341.17, or 4.2 per cent, to a total of $3,054,577.19.

Westwood Case Before Coroner's Jury On Tuesday

Constable Monaghan Completes Plans For Presentation Of Evidence

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 9.—Constable Walter Monaghan today completed his plans to lay before a coroner's jury tomorrow the evidence by which he hopes to show that Justice of the Peace James J. Westwood, of McKees Rocks, and his constable, Tim Drexler, were responsible for the slaying of the "squire's" wife, Mrs. Martha Westwood.

As Monaghan drove ahead to complete the case, Westwood and Drexler were reported to have broken their long friendship. As a result, both were expected to present separate defenses. Strengthening reports of the break was the retention by Drexler of William Coleman, Republican county chairman, as his counsel. Westwood and Drexler had previously retained the same attorney.

District Attorney Andrew T. Park meanwhile indicated that the commonwealth will not tip its entire hand at the inquest tomorrow and will summon only enough witnesses to substantiate the murder charge against the two defendants.

Would Censure State Solons

State Federation Of Pennsylvania Women Opposed To Fun-Making In House

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 9.—Members of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women will be asked to vote on a resolution censuring members of the Pennsylvania legislature for their conduct at the closing moments of the recent session, it was announced today.

The resolution, drawn by Mrs. James S. Huey for presentation at the annual convention in Erie, September 30, begs those who represent us in the law-making bodies of the commonwealth to see that the traditional celebrations of the closing sessions...are of a dignified nature.

The resolution was an outgrowth of the displeasure expressed by Mrs. John M. Phillips, president of the federation, when she witnessed legislators hurrying cuspidors, setting off fireworks, tearing up journals and otherwise celebrating the end of a long and strenuous session. Other resolutions which will come before the women for a vote are birth control, selective sterilization, universal finger printing, a non-partisan method of appointing state health, public instruction and welfare officials, and the appointment of women to boards of state educational institutions and institutions of correction and welfare.

Man, 73, Claims Walking Title

John C. McCormick, 73, Takes Long Hike To Celebrate Birthday

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 9.—John C. McCormick, 73, today had proved beyond doubt that he was a "natural born walker."

Believing there was no better way of celebrating his birthday than to take a long walk, McCormick, cousin of the former University of Pittsburgh chancellor, Samuel B. McCormick, started from Tafford and

"walked up to Mt. Pleasant and spent the night." The distance of 25 miles was just a warm-up, however, and the next day found the hiker in Somerset, 29 miles away. The third day he finished off the trek by walking 23½ miles to Legioner "through a very pleasant drizzle of rain."

McCormick claimed he couldn't have made such good time if his young companion of 46 had been along. "Some men are born fools, liars and other things," he philosophized, "but I am just a natural born walker."

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 9.—Emotional insanity probably will be the defense of Miss Margaret Link, 18, an unwed mother who was to go on trial in Fayette County court here today on a charge of murdering her newly born infant.

Her attorney, Linn V. Phillips, indicated the defense will contend the birth of the child resulted in a temporary emotional insanity. The girl allegedly covered the babe with a burp cloth and abandoned it in the woods.

YOUTH BITTEN BY DOG SUNDAY EVE

Paul McConahy, aged 13, of Edenburg, was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital Sunday evening at 7:20, suffering with injuries about the body, sustained when he was bitten by a police dog belonging to a neighbor. His injuries are not of a serious character, it is stated.

There is good in everything. If people didn't suffer, they never would think about heaven.

RALLY OF REPUBLICAN VOTERS OF THE EAST SIDE

A rally of Republican voters of the East Side and supporters of the W. Walter Braham campaign for judge, and all others interested, will be held on Tuesday, September 10th, 1935, at 8:45 p. m. at the McElroy Garage on East Washington street.

Star Chamber Sessions

There was a time when city council and the mayor transacted all public business in open meetings. In the past year or more the meetings of council have been little more than ratification meetings, confirming action taken behind closed doors.

WHY?
The mayor and city council are presumed to be the servants of the people, and the business they transact is the peoples' business. Is there any reason why it should be done behind closed doors. And if there is a reason, what is it?

If nominated and elected mayor there will be no "star chamber sessions". Public business will be transacted in public meeting and the people will have an opportunity to see and hear what is done and what reasons motivate the action of the mayor and council.

Let's bring the city's business out into the light where people can see it. Let's be done with "star chamber sessions."

Nominate Stern

Selection of Judges of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania is one of the most important duties confronting the voters of the Commonwealth.

On the Supreme Court rests a tremendous weight of responsibility. Before the members of this highest court of our Commonwealth come tremendously important problems; problems which affect the life, liberty and pursuit of happiness of every citizen; problems that can be settled by no other tribunal.

It is, therefore, of tremendous importance that a man of Judge Horace Stern's legal learning, unquestioned integrity, great human sympathy and breadth of vision, be elevated to one of the existing vacancies.

There can be no more striking and conclusive proof of Judge Stern's fitness for the office of Judge of the Supreme Court than the Supreme Court's own opinion, expressed on numerous occasions in upholding his decisions.

The Supreme Court has affirmed 89 cases tried before Judge Stern in the fifteen years that he has been on the bench, while only nine decisions were reversed.

In fact, in 19 of the cases affirmed by the Appellate Court, the higher court filed no opinion of its own, but adopted and relied on Judge Stern's opinion or charge to support its own.

EIGHTEEN-HOLE MATCHES START

By DAVIS J. WALSH

International News Service Sports Editor.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9.—On the theory that there's nothing like a draft of carbolic to simplify matters, unless it's two drafts of carbolic, the amateur golf championship of the United States was to begin this morning at the country club of Cleveland on the principle of swift and pitiless annihilation.

The Chicago stock yards do it better and, for the most part, cleaner, but the championship system was borrowed last year from the British and the latter are always primitive. When they get out to rectify what they don't happen to want, they don't just slaughter; they exterminate.

Will Eliminate Many.

Therefore, the dead and dying were to be left in series of mutilated rows.

By noon today as a great profusion of sudden-death, 18-hole matches were to come down to an abrupt conclusion in the first round while a sudden and desultory rain added its macabre touch to the general uneasiness. Tomorrow in the second round, there will be 64 of these matches. On Wednesday morning, 32; on Wednesday afternoon, 16.

After that, some semblance of sanity will be regained—perhaps too late for such as Lawson Little, at the moment a champion several times over.

Little Favored.

Little, prodigious hitter, grim, relentless competitor and as rugged as a railroad tie, was a 5-1 favorite to win the tournament, because of his successive victories in the British amateur and his 1934 title at Brookline. But these items, counted as assets, were in reality liabilities. He did not figure to win again here for the very fact that, in two years, he already has won beyond all human expectation. Even the great Jones wasn't able to take the British event twice in a row and only once did he succeed in the American championship—and that Little is setting out to try to do both. Personally, I think he has hardly the slightest chance.

As a matter of fact, so capricious is the goddess that watches over 18-hole matches that it is possible for all known and admitted favorites to expire before daylight, leaving the field to a covey of very prominent saps.

Bankers Capture Golf Championship

Bankers Defeat A. & P. Team For Six Points And Win Business Men's League

Raymond George and Norman Buckingham, co-captains of the Bankers golfing team are wearing broad smiles today. Sunday afternoon at the Municipal course the Bankers took six points from the A. & P. managers in the Business Men's League and thereby won the championship of the league by a single point over the Universal and Bell Phones.

The Universals captained by Geo. Shook finished the second half of the season with 30 points and the Bell Phones finished with 30 points, while the Bankers slide under the wire with 31 points after winning the first half of the league.

Jack Gerson, local jeweler had donated a trophy cup to the league and it will be presented to the champion Bankers team at the banquet of the league to be held later, it was announced by President Charles "Bugs" Walther, today.

This was the first year for the league and it turned out very successful. The league was run without handicaps. Next year there is a movement on foot to have handicaps. This will be decided upon at a meeting of the managers to be held later.

Columbia-Fordham Gridders Called

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—One of the best looking Columbia football squads in years begins training at Baker Field today under the expert tutelage of Lou Little. Lachrymose Lou, whose pessimism is known far and wide, was almost optimistic for a change as he inspected his wealth of sophomore talent. Little's team meets this season, among others, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Syracuse, Cornell and Dartmouth.

Many Sophomores

New York, Sept. 9.—Twenty-one giant sophomores hold Fordham's 1935 football hopes in their hands. Coach Sleepy Jim Crowley of the Maroon sent his squad through its opening training dodes today and admitted the team's success was dependent upon the manner in which the newcomers disport themselves. The new men all weigh in the neighborhood of 200 pounds.

Miller-Zivic Fight Tonight

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 9.—The ring arts that have made Freddie Miller a popular boxing champion go on display tonight when the featherweight king battles Eddie Zivic, local lightweight, in a 10-round bout here.

The fight is the top line event of a program that will usher in the indoor fight season in Pittsburgh. In the semi-final Fatsy Hennigan, the Clairton policeman, is pitted against Mickey Devine, of Buffalo, while in another of the preliminaries Chester Paulitis, of Scranton, takes on Red Bruce, Pittsburgh negro light-heavyweight.

No wonder congress seems lost and bewildered. Father Coughlin's lobby has left Washington.

Wins Swim Title

First Canadian girl to win the event in the eight years of its history, Miss Charlotte Acres, of Vancouver, B. C., bested 15 competitors in the women's professional five-mile swim championship held at Toronto, Ont. With the title she won a purse of $1,000.

Joe Louis Is Great Boxer

Spectators Marvel At Detroit Bomber In Exhibition Against Clever Boxer

(International News Service)

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Sept. 9.—Gene Roman was surprised, and he frankly admitted it. The recognized No. 1 of New Jersey's referees leaned back against a tree inside the "stockade" here as Joe Louis and Paul Cavallier finished their two-round bout in the ring.

"I never thought he was that good," he mumbled.

"I knew he was strong, and that he was a murderous puncher. But I never thought he was that good a boxer, too. Why, Cavallier is regarded as one of the best gymnasium workers in the world. He has worked with Gene Tunney, Jack Sharkey, Max Schmeling and Max Baer—and a couple of years ago gave the present title-holder, Jimmy Braddock, as beautiful a boxing lesson as I've ever seen."

Louis Can Box

"I came up here this afternoon expecting to see him jab Louis dizzily. And did you just see what I saw? Why, Louis is just as good a boxer as Paul is. What a beautiful exhibition. Louis doesn't have to knock his opponents out to win. Why, he could park that dynamite right in the dressing room and still lick any heavyweight in the business, just outboxing him."

Off the form Shufflin' Joe flashed in yesterday's workout. The only problem now confronting his handlers is that of keeping him from going "stale." Right now he is at his peak, physically and pugilistically. He could step into that Yankee Stadium ring tonight and to use his own quaint but highly expressive language, "Dust off that Baer."

Amateur Golfers To Have Tourney

(International News Service)

HERSHEY, Pa., Sept. 9.—Budding golfers will be given an opportunity to climb a rung in goldform's ladder of fame in the first annual amateur championship of the Pennsylvania Public Golfers' association which will be played over the difficult Hershey Park club course here on September 20 and 21.

The contest will comprise 72 holes medal play, 18 holes on Friday morning and 18 holes in the afternoon. Only one-half the field and ties will qualify for the 36 holes the following day.

Trophies will be awarded to the winner, runner-up and third man in the 72 holes medal play. Other prizes are the John B. Kelly trophy and the J. Griffith Boardman team trophy, each of which must be won three times for permanent possession.

A consolation event of 18 holes medal play will be held Saturday morning for those who failed to survive the qualifying rounds.

The final test of poise is to wear white shoes in a region where street loafers use eatin' tobacco.

Thornton Tames Cochran 7-2

"Shorty" Thornton Sets Mercer County Champs Down With Five Hits

George "Shorty" Thornton was in his prime yesterday afternoon at the Lee avenue field and as a result the Sixth Ward Firemen humbled the Cochran, Pa., Firemen, 7 to 2, with Thornton breezing them through too fast for the visiting firemen to get a look at. He allowed only five hits.

A crowd of close to 3,000 witnessed the game. Manager Ziegler picked Thornton to start and didn't make a mistake. He fanned four men and gave up five hits. For the first six innings the Sixth Ward mound ace held the visiting firemen to two hits and no runs, but in the seventh let-up a little and the Cochranites scored two runs. Carl Brown on the hill for the Cochranites was touched for 11 hits by the locals, with "Peck" Huston, and the Gall brothers Andy and Bill getting the most of the hits. Huston had a triple and single, while the Gall brothers had two singles apiece.

The Mercer County champions never had a look in with the Sixth Ward boys and had words of praise for Thornton. Brooks and Weekly were the best for the Cochranites, with C. Jackson playing a fine game for the locals and turned in some fine base running.

Pitt, Stanford, Ohio State Loom As Among Best

The University of Pittsburgh will have the strongest football squad in the east this year, in the opinion of Pop Warner, head coach at Temple university and one of the wisest men in the game. Ohio State, he believes, will stand out in the Big Ten, Stanford will be the class of the far west and Alabama and Louisiana State should excel among teams in the southern states.

Warner said in an interview recently that he expects many teams to develop further the impromptu lateral pass which was used so effectively as an offensive weapon by Colgate university last season. It will be remembered that Minnesota scored its winning touchdown against Pittsburgh last year with a lateral pass and that the Panthers scored and made a long run against the Gophers by the use of the same play.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Officers and managers of the Lawrence County Baseball League will meet at 7:30 p. m. today, at the Sporting Goods Store to wind up the 1935 business for the circuit, according to President Alec Samuels. Among the business which will come up for discussion will be the Mahoning A S & T P controversy. Mahoning claims they did not have sufficient time to play off postponed games. The Tin Platers claim Mahoning had. The original date set for the closing of the loop was August 12. Owing to rain the season was lengthened until August 25.

Every now and then death invades the rank of Sportdom and boys who occupy a prominent place in athletics are called away. One of the deaths lately which shocked the fans was the demise of Charles Guillum, one of the best of athletes and Saturday another man who had a large part in Lawrence County athletics was laid away to rest. He was John A. Jackson who was one year ago one of the guiding hands of the Lawrence County Baseball league. Back in 1933 and succeeding years Jackson's wise advice and fairness helped the league on its successful path. So interested was he in baseball that less than 24 hours before his death he asked for the ball scores.

Paul Barber of Sewickley, won the Beaver County open singles tournament at Ambridge. He beat Eddie Fouse of Alliquippa 6-4, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1.

Edward H. (Ted) Coy, famous ex-football player, died in a New York hospital yesterday of pneumonia, and complications following a heart attack. Coy was a star at Yale for three years prior to his graduation in 1910.

Twenty thousand patrons attended the harness horse racing at Ebensburg yesterday, despite the threat by District Attorney W. L. Hibbs to invoke Pennsylvania's blue law. Billie X won the Ebensburg handicap pace, Sidney Stark took the Johnston handicap pace and Uncle Doc captured the Cambria county handicap pace. In the running races Cambana and Donia finished first in their respective events.

Freddie Miller, N. B. A. feather weight champion and Eddie Zivic are carded for a 10 round bout at Duquesne garden, Pittsburgh, tonight. Large fields have been entered in the Mercer fair race events. Binghamton won the New York-Pennsylvania Baseball league championship. Cleveland polo team won from Harborhills team at Cleveland, 5 to 2.

SEWICKLEY TEAM SUFFERS DEFEAT

American Sheet & Tin Plate Record Victory Before Large Crowd

American Sheet & Tin Plate defeated the Sewickley All-Stars four to two yesterday at Centennial field before a large crowd. Coates pitched for the Tin Platers and Uncle Doc hurled for the visitors. Cook and Heyman each got a triple while Fruitt got a pair of doubles.

Score by innings: Sewickley.....000 020 000-2 10 0

WIN FIRST GAME

Pearson A. C. football team won its first game of the 1935 season yesterday at Dean field by upsetting the Catholics 12 to 0. Cagnetti made both touchdowns for the winners. Morella featured with long runs. The Pearson A. C. will practice on Tuesday night at Dean field. They would like to meet all teams under 16 years of age. For games call 4049-R and ask for Al Cozza.

Giants Defeat Pirates, 3 To 1, Stay In Race

Cardinals Divide Two With Phillies, Cubs Are Idle Due To Rain

TERRYMEN ARE FIGHTING HARD

By HOMER METZ

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Win, lose or draw in the hectic national league pennant drive, Bill Terry is determined upon one thing, no one is going to accuse his New York Giants of lacking heart.

The tactician leader made this clear in two ways in Pittsburgh yesterday.

Before his club took the field against the rampaging Buccaneers at Forbes Field, Terry called several of the New York correspondents traveling with the team, to his side and said:

"Maybe we're going to lose the pennant and maybe we're not, but come what may we're going to be out there swinging with all we've got from now until the end of the season."

Giants Win

With this off his chest, Terry went onto the field and led the Giants to a brilliant 3 to 1 victory over the Pirates, whose fondest hope is to displace the New Yorkers in third place.

Carl Hubbell, ace of the Giants staff, took the mound and did a superb job, holding the Pirates to six hits. Red Lucas opposed him and did well until the sixth inning when two rousing triples by Travis Jackson and Terry himself decided the issue.

Cubs Rained Out

The victory failed to get the Giants out of the mire of third place, but it was comforting to the Terrymen's rosters nevertheless.

The Chicago Cubs had their advantage over the Hants paired to a single game when they were rained out of a scheduled contest with the Boston Braves.

The league-leading St. Louis Cardinals split a twin bill with the Philadelphia Quakers and as a result remained 2½ games ahead of the Cubs and 3½ ahead of the Giants.

Dizzy Dean hurled the Cards to an easy 11 to 0 victory in the opener, but the Phillies took advantage of the "break" to cop the nightcap, 4 to 2. Five hurlers appeared on the mound for the Cards, Heusser, Haines, Hallahan, Walker and Paul Dean, despite the fact that the Phillies only collected four hits. Dizzy Dean's victory was his twenty-fifth of the season.

The Brooklyn Dodgers surprised everyone by taking two games from the Cincinnati Reds, 8 to 4 and 6 to 4. George Earnshaw flashed much of his old-time form to retire fifteen consecutive batters in a relief effort in the opener.

Lawson Is Wild

Young Roxie Lawson, the Detroit hurler, who won his first two big league games via the shutout route, knows today what it means to lose. Lawson forced in a run with a pass in the eighth inning to give the Washington Senators 4 to 3 victory over the American league champs.

The New York Yankees played their best ball of the year in winning two games from the Cleveland Indians, 3 to 2 and 5 to 4. Lefty Vernon Gomez pitched masterfully for the Yanks in the opener which went ten innings. Lou Gehrig hit his twenty-eighth home run in the second game.

The Boston Red Sox won two games from the Chicago White Sox and as a result swept from fifth to fourth place in the American league standings. Wes Ferrell hurled Cronin's men to a 6 to 2 triumph in the opener while Jack Wilson, aided by Lefty Grove gave the Bostonians their second victory of the day by a score of 5 to 2.

The St. Louis Browns climbed out of the cellar by beating the Philadelphia Athletics twice, 9 to 4 and 7 to 5.

Fresh Advance
In Stock MarketMarket Resumes Advance
Today After Shaky Opening At Start

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The stock market swung into a fresh advance today with the ticker running several minutes late after early hesitancy had brought losses running to more than a point in some recent favorites.

Steel shares were among the first to resume the advance as U. S. Steel and Bethlehem staged a sharp reversal of trend to convert losses of a point into fractional gains.

Chrysler shot up nearly a point after having been as low as 68. General Motors, Auburn, and Hudson also registered fractional gains.

Utilities sluggish

Union Pacific and Atchafalpa set a rail pace as they moved above their previous closing prices. New York Central rose fractionally to establish a new high for the year.

Utilities were sluggish.

Fresh strength in grain which rose to new season's highs in Winnipeg spurred demand for the mail order and farm implement shares. Montgomery Ward and Case rose more than a point each, while Sears and Roebuck scored smaller gains.

United States Smelting was a decided weak spot losing more than 2 points. The copper shares including Anaconda, though, were steady.

Communications were in demand as Western Union and International Telephone moved up moderately. Liquors, rail equipments, amusements, and specialty shares also shared in the rally.

Perry Upsets

British Tennis Champion
Hands Lacing To U. S.
Hope At Forest Hills

By MICHAEL J. FOSTER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Tennis fans who had hoped for an American sweep in the combined national championships out at Forest Hills were resigned today to another Fred Perry runaway in the men's singles.

Helen Jacobs more than held up her end in the women's competition, flashing a strong game to shellack Nancy Lyle, British Wimbledon cup ace, 6-0, 6-4, scores to enter the semi-finals, but Perry was even more impressive as he swept aside the challenge of Frank Shields by a 6-4, 4-6, 3-6, 6-0 count, and gained the right to meet Wilmer Allison tomorrow for the second time this year.

Perry Modest

Perry was modest after his triumph, attributing much of his success to his good fortune in making the right shots on crucial points. But his old cockiness returned when it was suggested that a much tougher opponent awaited him in Allison in tomorrow's semi.

"You remind me that Wilmer took me to the five sets in the finals here last year. But have you forgotten the Davis cup this year?" Perry shellacked the Texan in their challenge round tilt, wrecking Allison in four sets.

Sir Malcolm, who was accompanied by his son, said he did not intend to sell the car and that it would be aboard when he sailed on the Majestic.

Penn State Squad
Starts Training

First Game Of Season To Be Played October 5 With Lebanon Valley

(Special To The News)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 9.—Although Penn State lost three of its quartet of backs from last year, Coach Bob Higgins, who is sending his Nittany Lions through their initial 1935 workouts this week, has another group of experienced ball carriers on hand.

Led by Tommy Silvano, fullback and leading scorer last year, this group compares favorably with the best Penn State put on the field last fall. The leading candidate for the quarterback post in Red O'Hara, varsity signal caller two years ago, O'Hara was injured before the opening game of last year and was kept on the sidelines for the entire season.

Filling the positions of halfbacks Harry Sigel and Merrill Morrison will be one of the chief difficulties which confront Coach Higgins before the season's opener with Lebanon Valley October 5. Lefty Knapp and Bill Cooper, two varsity lettermen, are likely prospects while Mike Kornick, Bill Rhoda and Dick Maurer are other backs who saw lots of service during last season's campaign.

Six of last year's varsity line are available at present. Lou Kreizman, a guard, was the only forward lost through graduation. With Captain Bob Weber and Roy Schuyler holding down the tackles, Penn State should be very strong in these positions. Likewise, with Frank Smith, Art Fry, and Bob Merini as the varsity end material on hand, Charley Cherundolo, center, and Lou Barish, guard, are two more linemen who were outstanding on the 1934 eleven.

Although Coach Higgins is a great believer in not saying much about his sophomores until they have shown their wares on the varsity, it is quite probable that recruits from the powerful 1934 yearling team will keep the more seasoned varsity players on their toes.

OUR YESTERDAYS
When the Telegraph Was Invented
By Samuel F. B. Morse, an Artist

Samuel F. B. Morse with his invention; Morse in his later years.

A NOTED EXAMPLE of how men sometimes devote their efforts in one field, and despite success there, find fame and honor in an entirely different line of endeavor, was Samuel Finley Breese Morse. Morse is widely known as the inventor of the telegraph, but comparatively few persons know that at one time he was a celebrated artist. Morse began his art work while in college, designing ivory miniatures. Later some of his work was exhibited in the Royal Academy, in Paris. In 1825 he became the first president of the National Academy of Design in the United States, and 10 years later became a professor of arts design in the University of the City of New York. He did not devote all of his time, however, to art, becoming interested about this time in the subject of electromagnetism. He is said to have first conceived the idea for the telegraph while on board an ocean liner in 1832. Using the principle of obtaining an electric spark from a magnet, Morse began building his telegraph and gave a public demonstration in 1837. Successful in that, he made an appeal to congress for financial aid, which was not granted until 1843, when the body appropriated $30,000 for an experimental line between Washington and Baltimore. The experiment was a success, and on May 24, 1844, Morse sent his celebrated first message over the line. It was, "What has God wrought?"

Lincoln School Group To Meet

Annual Reunion Will Take Place At Ben Franklin Auditorium Friday Evening

COMMITTEES TO MEET TUESDAY

Arrangements for the annual gathering of the former pupils and teachers of the Lincoln school prior to 1900, will be completed at a meeting of the chairman of the various committees, which will take place in the Castleton, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The reunion this year will take place Friday evening, September 12 in the Ben Franklin auditorium, the increasing number which has been attending during the past few years having resulted in a need for a larger meeting room. There are also being parking accommodations at the Ben Franklin school than the Lincoln school.

President Harry Clarke has received assurances from many out-of-town residents, who formerly attended the school, that they will be present for the occasion and a record crowd is expected to attend.

The groups will assemble at 7 o'clock, and there will be more time for visiting this year, a shorter program having been planned than in former years. Music for the occasion will be under the direction of Chester Reynolds.

A special invitation is being extended to former teachers of the school, and J. L. Moser, former writing supervisor is expected to attend. In addition to President Clarke, the officers include James Ball, secretary and Mrs. Margaret Clarke, treasurer.

Council Hears From Citizens

Number Speak At Session On Question Of Huge Light Plant Bond Issue

COUNCIL PASSES MEASURE FOR VOTE

Council met in the city building today and adopted an ordinance which authorized the holding of an election in November for the purpose of obtaining the assent of the electors to an increase of the indebtedness of the city in excess of two percent upon the last assessed valuation of taxable property in the city, in the sum of $1,500,000 for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and beginning to operate a municipal electric distribution system.

After the ordinance had been called up for third and final reading remarks were in order and upon invitation of Mayor Charles B. Mayne taxpayers voiced their opinions concerning the ordinance. A majority of them expressed themselves as being strongly opposed to a municipal plant for the reason, they said that they believed it would increase taxation. Others favored a vote so the opinion of the people could be obtained.

Those who spoke were Mrs. Duff Scott, Mrs. Harry Urmon, Mrs. C. L. Goodman, Mrs. William G. Dunn, Edward Shields, Fred A. Fowler, Miss Lottie Nicklin, Mrs. Edward Hoy, Edward J. Davies, Carl Leathers and Howard Kirk, Jr. In addition Mayor Charles B. Mayne, Councilman D. O. Davies, Albert A. Hoyland and J. D. Alexander took part in the discussion which started at 10 a. m., and lasted until past noon.

Opposes Move Edward Shields was the first spokesman. He said he was representing his own interests and believed that any increase in taxation would swamp property-owners. He declared that to build a municipal distribution system would not only prove a burden but would be extravagance. He asserted that if the council was sincere they would look after the property owners interests. He further asserted that "our children's children will be paying for a horse they never rode."

Mayor Mayne requested Mr. Shields to confine himself to the affair in discussion adding that unless he did the council would be in session for a week. Shields claimed the right of free speech and charged his discussion was being limited. The mayor retorted that he expected Mr. Shields to confine himself to the subject and that he did not wish to hear "drabble." He also declared that "No one knows whether I am for or against it," adding "I never have spoken my opinion."

"A word to the wise is sufficient but a whole volume does not mean anything," replied Shields after which he likened the proposal to build a municipal distribution system to a man or two days pay a week purchasing a limousine.

Reads Resolution Upon a request of Councilman Hoyland the city clerk read a copy of the resolution which stated that the officials desired to obtain the assent of voters on the proposal to increase the bond indebtedness $1,500,000 for a municipal light plant.

The councilman then said that, "our only question is 'Do the people want a plant?' He charged the council would do this only if no burden were put on the taxpayers. He said the bonds would be paid out of the revenue of the plant and not out of taxation.

Fred A. Fowler said that people who do not pay taxes have no right to vote on the question. Mayor Mayne told him that payment for the bonds would not come out of taxation and that clause in the ordinance providing for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest and also the principal of the loan within 30 days was imperative owing to state law. Fowler said that in the past he had had legal business conducted and was held to the provisions of some of the papers although it had been explained to him that such would not be the case.

Opposes Project. Miss Lottie Nicklin said she represented a few lonely women and that they have a difficult time paying their school taxes. She declared she was opposed to anyone doing anything to the electric company. Miss Nicklin said she owned stock in the company and had received dividends.

She said she did not believe that city employees would know how to run the electric plant. Mayor Mayne said that some of the men in charge of electric plants did not know how to do it but that they were interested in civic projects.

He then told of how 18 years ago he had gone into a councilman's meeting and explained how the garbage collection and disposal system excelled the private contract system. He said the private contract system would be about $120,000, and the present city system costs only $28,000.

Cost Is Low. Mrs. C. L. Goodwin, who said she also represented Mrs. H. W. McKee, declared the cost of service here is low and the service good, and Mrs. Harry Urmon said the taxes on the Urmon property has increased six times and declared the light rates are low and service very good in regard to other utilities' rates.

Solicitor White said that 25 cents of each tax dollar in 1933 went to the electric company, after which Edward J. Davies said that council has a perfect right to put the question before the voters. He declared that council is a neutral body and is simply doing what they consider a duty.

Says Council Not on Record Councilman Hoyland then told how people had asked that something be done of the survey being made and of the demand for a vote. He said: "No member of council has expressed his personal opinion." He said that the council must have the question put on the ballot.

When Mr. Shields started to speak again Mayor Mayne asked him if he does not have a son working for the Pennsylvania Power Company. When he did not reply, Councilman Alexander insisted he answer and Mayor Mayne said: "I know his son."

Mr. Shields said he did not believe it necessary to answer, as the question did not pertain to the ordinance.

The mayor said the plant proceeds would pay for the bonds and said he believed the people in council this morning were antagonistic.

He charged that the city has been trying to get their rate case settled for a year and asserted the various company schedules confuse people.

He declared he has no personal quarrel with the company but if it can send $300,000 to Wall Street they are getting money the company does not deserve.

Howard Kirk, Jr. then delved into figures and declared that consumers in Grove City, Ellwood City and other places pay less than consumers here because there are municipal plants in those cities.

Accuses Council Carl Leathers, who represented himself as an ex-property owner charged council with political philtering. He said council does not need express themselves as to what they think of municipal ownership. He asserted they were "passing the buck" to an election. He declared there is a place on the ballot for persons to vote for or against municipal ownership.

He declared there would be a serious menace, after mortgaging every inch in the city for the purpose intended in the bond issue if some succeeding council sold the utility back to a private owner at a great loss. He referred to the telephone conduit system and the street lighting system procedure here he explained.

Councilman Davies replied to Leathers and declared that council in this proposition is acting only as a referee and that relative to politics, it is not a wise move. He declared that until today there had been no organized opposition. He declared he was not a dictator and council did not want to appear in that role.

Following the discussion, Solicitor White told council and those assembled that he had received word that Mr. Blinn, a high official of the Pennsylvania Power company, had refused to give to the city information as to how the figures of the company worked out under the new rate schedule.

White declared that the public service commission and the city were supposed to receive such information. Blinn objected because of probable appeals the company may make. Council granted him permission to ask the public service commission for permission to again examine the company's records since last April.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 9.—A marked reduction in the illicit sale of morphine, heroin, and other habit forming drugs recently has been noted by field agents of the department's narcotic control division. The vigilance of federal and state enforcement officers, together with the present wholesale prices of these drugs to local peddlers were given as reasons for the present satisfactory situation.

Long Measures Being Passed

Louisiana Legislature Meets In Special Session As Scheduled

LONG MACHINE IN FULL SWING

(International News Service) BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 9.—Rev. Gerald K. Smith, personal friend of the wounded Huey P. Long and leading organizer of share-ownership clubs throughout the nation today opened the tense meeting of Louisiana's house of representatives with a prayer.

He asked that the legislature act as one with their leader struck down by an assassin's bullet.

The first bill brought up provided that Judge B. H. Favy, father-in-law of Dr. Carl A. Weiss, Jr., have his district moved from anti-Long parishes to Long parishes which would cause his defeat in the January election. Dr. Weiss was shot down and killed by bodyguards last night after he wounded Senator Long.

It was passed 73 to 14 and the Huey Long administration machine was in full swing. Reports from the floor stated that Long leaders had pleaded with anti-Long men not to fight the bill and vote and it was evident that this they had agreed.

There was no doubt after the first bill passed that all other Long measures would pass without opposition. Representative L. M. Wimberly explained each bill as it came up.

The Long legislative juggernaut was now in full swing and the opposition from anti-Long representatives was heartless. They appeared to admit their defeat.

House Bill No. 2, abolishing the court of an anti-Long judge in East Baton Rouge parish was passed 72 to 16. None of the legislative members appeared to be concerned with the proceedings, although the small gallery sat on the edge of their seats and appeared to be disappointed by the lack of fight in the anti-Long group.

A pall hung over the house and although Senator Long was not present his machine was working so efficiently that he was there in spirit at least.

Stuttering Movie Comedian Is Beaten Up By Pittsburgh Garage Man

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Sept. 9.—Roscoe Ates, stuttering comedian, was abed today, as a result of a quarrel with a garage attendant over a bill, according to police.

Ates absorbed several blows just below his wobbly lips before police intervened. The quarrel was said to have started when he tendered a $50 bill in payment of a small storage charge. Ates used the $50 later to post forfeits for himself and the garage attendant.

The liar always warns you when he is thinking up a lie. He repeats your question to gain time.
